Me

I'm a developer, with 5+ years of experience creating innovative solutions. I have already developed from scratch a great number of integrated applications, from mobile apps to ecommerces and complex systems. I have a lot experience with PHP, JS, Angular 2, NativeScript (if you're not aware of it, take a look, it is an excellent kind of technology), Wordpress/Woocommerce, servers and much others... this list grows with every challenge that I face, I take real joy in learning and implementing new technologies in workplaces. For me, languages and technologies are only resources to create amazing solutions, and not religions.
